Bringing Communities Together to Advance the Regional Agenda

Vision Celebrated, Consortium Launched

The Regional Community Institute (RCI) held its Annual Social on December 14. Announced at the Social were the completion of First Coast Vision and the launch of the First Coast Consortium. Both announcements were enthusiastically received by those in attendance, who then put on their shades and had their picture taken. This may retire the motto used by RCI as it worked on First Coast Vision: "The future's so bright, we've go to wear shades!" For more information, contact Margo Moehring at 904-279-0885 X161.

Sustainability Resource Center

The Sustainability Resource Center in Downtown Jacksonville is nearing completion and promises to be a resource for the Region as residents and businesses explore how to save money and resources in their lives and businesses. The Center itself will demonstrate many sustainable building techniques, and will contain a library and research center for those exploring the options that will work best for them. A joint project of the US Green Building Council North Florida Chapter, the City of Jacksonville and the JEA, The Center is planned to be open to all, beginning in April 2012. For more information, contact Margo Moehring at 904-279-0885 X161.

Council Sets Legislative Priorities

The Northeast Florida Regional Council has released its 2012 Legislative Priorities. Taken from input by the local governments in Northeast Florida, this year's top priorities are Online Travel Companies Tax Collection; State Aid to Public Libraries and Cooperatives; Transportation Funding; Protection of Local Revenue; and Water Supply. The priority document also includes the individual legislative priorities for each of the seven counties in Northeast Florida. Go to the home page of our website at www.nefrc.org and click on the 2012 Legislative Priorities icon for the complete document.
